

The Regulator of 2030:

Regulating our digital future

Rapidly changing technologies present regulators with significant challenges.

It is challenging for financial services regulators to keep pace with the RAPID development of new technologies, but it is VITAL that they understand them before they intervene.

Financial market regulators MUST innovate in order to attract global fintech investment to our economy valued at

USD17.4 billion

in 2016 alone

$50 billion for 2010-2015.

A thriving fintech industry brings catalysts for economic growth:

New investment

Jobs

Innovation

Regulators must be tech savvy, agile, collaborative and at least as innovative as those they regulate.
